STORE PICKUP

From the low-fidelity prototype to the high-fidelity one, some elements are modified. For the section that displays items in the basket, a title is added for each category, such as "Product," "Quantity," "Glazing" and "Price," making the information more organized. Also, an option to edit or remove items from the basket is included to accommodate changes. For the total price, the text "Subtotal" is added next to the numbers, making it really clear that the numeric value is the total price. The two options for collecting the order – delivery and pickup – are a feature of Bun Bun Bake Shop. Since it is a local bakery in Pittsburgh, customers can choose to pickup their order directly from the shop to cut the time for waiting.
